

Spaced repetition uses scheduled review to improve long term memory.

Active recall asks learners to retrieve knowledge before seeing the answer.